Building Project Update. The backup generator was being worked on about 2 weeks ago. That has been fixed and we were awarded permanent occupancy. We were given 11 acoustic panels with local photographs and they will be hung on the walls soon. Tom asked about the hearing loop. Jake explained that they are active in the dining room and the large activity room. Our wireless is 10 times faster than before. We are working on a building needs list, such as, toilet height, media carts that are lockable so that we can place our tech equipment in there, clocks, garbage cans, more tables and chairs, etc. We have been getting good feedback from those that visit the facility.

Staffing Update.

- Congrats to Cathy Keller. Jake announced to the committee that Cathy Keller started as the Activities/Volunteer Coordinator at the beginning of January. She has been doing a fantastic job and we have a lot of new volunteers.
- Reorganization of the Front Desk. Wendy and Barb's job as front office support was reorganized to create a back office support and a front office support. Barb is now front office support working with the consumers and front desk duties and Wendy is back office support working with the daily data collection and reporting. Also in moving Wendy to back office support we were able to create a Nutrition line which is 920-746-2523.

Operations Update.

- Jake talked about a building usage policy to help set guidelines for what the building could be used for and the days and hours it would be used. This policy would included weekends and non work hours.
- The committee discussed how to get people in that feel like they don't need the services of the building. Many options were brought up, such as; the tours, being ambassodors of the ADRC and reaching out to the community. Jake mentioned that when someone says this isn't for them to ask them why they feel that way and what are their interests or hobbies. This will help facilitate a conversation about what we have to offer.

O Update on attendance. There were 346 new Scan Cards made in the month of February. Comparing nutrition from February 2017 to February 2018 there were 261 different individuals and 959 meals served in 2017, whereas, there were 516 unduplicated individuals and 1400 meals in 2018. Contributions in February 2017 were $2729 times 12 it would be $32,000 and in February 2018 we had $4,231 and if we times that by 12 we got $51,000.

New Activities and classes include: PC Computer class and a Mac computer class. Stepping On put on by Learning In Retirement (LIR). Some of these classes have over 100 signed up to attend. Athletic Trainer, Alyssa, from 1:30-2:30 on Wednesdays. Alyssa gives an overview of how the exercise equipment works. We have been talking to an Exercise Physiologist. He specializes in exercise programs for adults with disabilities, and autism. We also have the Brewers, Aging Mastery Program, Chess group, Rotary Club.

o We are still learning what we need befoe scheduling regular meetings with outside organizations.

We have 15 new volunteers

- Marketing Update. Jake showed the Eagle County website to show how we were modeling our website after. He altered the design a little. Tweak has set up a Facebook page for the ADRC.
- 7. New Business
- Proposed Bylaws for the Nutrition Advisory Council. Skipped
- Proposed Bylaws for the Combined ADRC-Senior Advisory Board. We are restructuring the ADRC Advisory Board and the Senior Advisory Board. They will be combined and the Nutrition Advisory Council will be a stand alone committee. The Nutrition program is a big program and there is a lot to it. We felt that the Nutrition took a backseat when combined with the Senior Adisory Committee. A motion was made by Tom Krueck and seconded by Lucille Kudick to move forward with the proposed bylaws. The motion passed unanimously.
- Three Year Aging Plan Public Input. The Advisory Board discussed the Three Year Aging Plan. Jake

One of the questions asked was how sustainable is the meal program with the increase in participants compared to the staffing we have. Jake explained that in the beginning it was tough, however, we do have a new Limited Term Employee (LTE) Robyn that helps in the kitchen from 10:30 am to 2:00 pm as well as a Senior Aide who can work up to 20 hours a week as well as volunteers to help. Joe and Jake have started budget talks for 2019, these talks have included the addition of kitchen staff to support the increase in participation.

 work together by keeping their eyes and ears open to the community and identifying challenges in the community at large and from the other communities for unmet needs.

He explained that the board should be aware of who they are talking to and what information they are sharing out in the public. A motion was made by Tom Krueck to approve the Confidentiality Policy and seconded by Mike Green. The motion carried unamimously. Each board member signed and turned in their Confidentiality Agreement.
- Three Year Aging Plan Update. The timeline for the Three Year Aging Plan is as follows: The Draft is due July 20th, the Final is due November 2nd. We will have a joint NAC/ADRC on July 16th at 3:00 pm to discuss the plan. The September 11th meeting at 1:30 pm will have the following three groups present for a joint meeting: the Human Services Board, NAC Advisory Committee and the ADRC Advisory Board. The committee had questions on what they should tell consumers that are asking about the increase and why the fitness room cost doubling. Jake explained that the increase in the fitness room will go into an equipment replacement fund and the increase in the meal program will go toward operational cost. If they cannot afford to pay then they can talk to Jake or Jenny. The committee suggested a discounted annual price versus a monthly cost for those that opt to pay annually. They would also like a cost of the new equipment and how to get donatations or work on sponsorship of these areas. Jake agreed to put it on the agenda for the next meeting.
 - O Jenny discussed the new activities, classes and events such as; Brain Enrichment, 3 new computer classes, muscians, dance class, yoga class, exercise physiologist, Strong and Stable, Hearing Support Group, and the Brewers trip this fall to name a few; since we have been in the new building.

- 6. Building Project Update
 - Jake welcomes the SSAC/NAC Advisory Council to the new building. They will do an informal tour after the meeting.
 - The building was closed yesterday due to a power outage. Three weeks ago we were given temporary occupancy. We have 30 days to address the things on our list. Yesterday was the final step to permanent occupancy. The generators and back-up power switches checked out fine and we were back in the building by noon.
 - We are compiling a building needs list. We wanted to move in and get familiar with the building and see how things worked and make a list of what needs to change or be added. Suggestions can go to Jake, Jenny or Cathy. There is some limited additional funding set aside to get things that are needed.
- 7. Staffing Updates & Reorganization
 - Jake introduced Cathy Keller the new Activities & Volunteer Coordinator. He explained that Cathy started in January and the position is now full time. Cathy stated that there is a lot of interest in volunteering.
 - Jake stated that we are working on a facility usage policy. This will help decide how the building can be used outside of the normal business hours. They are also gathering a list of inquiries and interests on using the building and working through them.
 - In the old building Wendy and Barb shared the front desk responsibilities. Since moving to the new building we created a hard divide between Wendy's responsibilities and Barb's responsibilities. Barb is Front Office support with Wendy as the backup. Wendy is Back Office Support and records daily entry participation. We created a nutrition line (746-2523) with Wendy so that nutrition calls were able to go directly to her.
 - We no longer have 2 numbers for the front desk. All calls come in on the 746-2372 number.
 - The newsletter is submitted by the 15rh or 2nd full Friday.
- Marketing Update
 - The ADRC is working with TWEAK which has been a huge success. Our challenges were getting the word out there and marketing. With the $26,500 integration funding we were able to contract with TWEAK and they have created a Facebook page; ADRC Door County/Community Center. The first month there were 1,300 connections by end of January there were 13,000 connections. Derek Bourneville posts on Facebook Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. He has recently taken pictures and interviewed with the Strong Women group and will post on Facebook next week.
 - WBDK did a live Facebook tour and there were also news stories done on the ADRC.
 - Other areas TWEAK is helping with is a website, business cards, and brochures.

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, any person needing assistance to participate in this meeting, should contact the Office of the County Clerk at (920)746 - 2200. Notification 48 hours prior to a meeting will enable the County to make reasonable arrangements to ensure accessibility to that meeting.

- 9. Three Year Aging Plan Public Input
 - Jake presented a handout that will help guide us in focusing on what we want to accomplish and change in our program and community. GWAAR wants public feedback on the three year Aging Plan. They would like to know the issues/challenges in the Door County community on aging and ADRC from the outside. Jake asked the committee to help gather input by having conversations with the groups they are in. they could identify 5 questions that want to ask and collect feedback. Jake reminded them that the conversations need to be recorded. Other options include putting a survey together through Survey Monkey with questions that include age groups, male vs. female, zip code, and whether they live alone among other areas. The Three Year Aging Plan draft is due at the end of summer.
- 10. Proposed Bylaws for Combined ADRC/Senior Services Advisory Committee
 - The Senior Services Advisory Committee is separating from the Nutrition Advisory Council and merging in with the ADRC Advisory Committee. The committee discussed the possibility that the meetings occur at each meal site. They also brought up that there would need to be equal representation from each area. A motion was made by Christine Andersen to move forward and separate the Nutrition Advisory Council. Carmen Schroeder second the motion. The motion was carried unanimously.
 - Need a facilitator for the Strong Women Program

Nutrition related agenda items:

- 11. Proposed Bylaws for Nutrition Advisory Council
 - The committee read through the bylaws and pointed out areas that needed to be fixed. As well as decided how the members would transition into the new committee. Christine Anderson motioned that the bylaws be passed with corrections. Carmen Schroeder second the motion. The motion was carried unanimously.
- 12. Volunteer Recruitment
 - We have a number of needs volunteers could help with. The kitchen has become overwhelmed with the volume of new people. There have been 182 new people in the last 3 weeks. The only increase in staff was that Cathy Keller, the Activities/Volunteer Coordinator position, went from part time to full time. The committee presented options such as; DVR program, Tammy Walls at the Sunshine House, Senior Aides program. We did lose a senior aid because of the size of the building. Priority volunteer opportunities include, clearing tables, setting tables, wiping tables, rolling silverware.
- 13. Nutrition Program Number
 - The number of participants from February 1–14, 2017, was 211 participants and 530 meals and from February 1–14, 2018, was 382 participants and 789 meals.

 Council members agreed that visiting other mealsites for the purpose of gathering input would be beneficial to understanding what meal site participants thought of the nutrition program.
- GWAAR provides parameters but the membership of the Nutritional Advisory Council should include members from all areas of Door County as well as representation from home delivered meal participants.

6. Three Year Aging Plan - 2018 Nutrition Program Goal

- Increasing our presence and scope of service throughout Door County was discussed as the overarching goal for the next three year plan.
- One suggestion for the next three years was to reevaluate meal site locations and the days we serve meals out of those meal site locations. The Council also discussed the need to reevaluate the Southern Door meal site location, specifically the Forestville location, because currently the meal site does not meet program requirements. Jake will have a timeline for next meeting on when to relocate the Southern Door meal site.

- The Council reviewed Section 6B of the current Three Year Aging Plan.

7. Meals Report

- The Council reviewed the NSIP meals comparison report. Jake provided an overview of the report and where we are at today at this time compared to last years meal numbers.
- The number of participants served by our home delivered meal program is down from last year by roughly 3%. Jake explained that this is largely due to attrition within the program participation. However, participation is growing from month to month within the current year. In February of 2018 we served a total of 1251 meals and in Marchof 2018 we served a total of 1461 meals.

• The number of participants served by our congregate meal program has increased substantially compared to last year at this time. The number of participants has increased overall by roughly 30%. This is thought to be a result of the new building. Specifically, our Sturgeon Bay meal site numbers have grown exponentially. In February of 2018 we served a total of 1648 meals and in March of 2018 we served a total of 1916 meals.

8. Volunteer Recruitment

• Since the move to the new building we have focused on the recruitment of volunteers to help support the increased workload of our nutrition program. That has gone well. We have recruited additional volunteers to help deliver home delivered meals, serving the congregate meals and bussing the dining room at the Sturgeon Bay meal site.

Executive Summary

There is a great deal of change happening in Door County that will greatly influence our Aging and Disability Resource Center and certainly the implementation of our 2019-2021 Aging Plan and Budget. Our three year aging plan is built on input from older adults, the ADRC and Nutritional Advisory Committees, a review of the current service delivery challenges and population trends. As we look forward to the next three years in providing services to older adults, their families and caregivers, this plan will be used to provide us the direction necessary to stay focused on improving the quality of lives for older adults in Door County.

In planning to create new services and programs and exploring opportunities to enhance existing ones, there are a few realities we must keep in mind. We recognize the unique environment in which the need exists here in Door County. Perhaps the most significant realism our agency and community at large will face over the next few decades is the rapid growth of our older adult population. Between 2010 and 2030, Door County's population of individuals who are 60 years of age and older is projected to increase by 16 percent. Which means that over a ten year period of time, nearly one out of every two people living in Door County will be 60 years of age or older. The increase in this proportion of Door County's population also comes at a time when the total population is not increasing at the same rate. The demand for services will continue to increase when the availability to meet those growing needs is limited.

In an effort to help us identify the top concerns from older adults living in Door County, we held a series of caregiver listening sessions, distributed a questionnaire and conducted one-on-one interviews. The following concerns rose to the top as priorities:

- Isolation and staying connected to the community at-large
- Physical health and condition
- Intergenerational activities and events
- Access to resource information
- Caregiver support
- Transportation

The public input we received strongly underscores the significance of the services we provide older adults, their families and caregivers here in Door County. Furthermore, these findings help us build a plan that directly addresses those top concerns and are identified as areas of importance in our delivery of services to older adults. And as such, we have developed a number of specific goals built into the six required focus areas of our plan. Please see Section 6 of our plan for the full details regarding those goals.

In summary, this plan advocates for maintaining the independence, safety and overall well-being of older adults through the services and programs delivered by the Aging and Disability Resource Center of Door County in conjunction with other community partners.

In 2016, the County Board, agreed to move forward with a new building to house both the ADRC and what was formerly known as the Senior Resource Center. A great deal of public input went into this process around the building itself and programs and services, including public hearings, presentations throughout the county, and discussions at the current Senior Center. The new building was built throughout the 2017 calendar year. We moved into the new building in early January of 2018. It was our intention to use the new building opening as the imputes to integrate all our services to the populations served by the ADRC and Aging Unit programs. The timing could not have been more advantageous for an Aging/ADRC integration initiative in Door County!

3. Organization and Structure of the County Aging Unit 3-C Aging Unit Coordination with ADRCs

Over the past year and a half the ADRC and Aging Unit (Senior Resource Center) have worked diligently towards integrating both entities as two separate divisions into one agency functioning together towards a common goal.

Our integration progress gained a lot of momentum in the summer of 2017, when we officially moved to one agency name, "Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) of Door County", one agency phone number, (920)746-2372(ADRC) and one agency email ADRC@co.door.wi.us. Shortly after the changes previously mentioned, the organizational supervision of the Adult Protective Services (APS) Unit was moved to the Department of Human Services and removed from the ADRC Unit.

In August of 2017 we made the decision to restructure a few key positions within our organization to help staff and the community gravitate toward the idea of one program. We started by reclassifying our Aging Program Manager position to Assistant ADRC Director. In October of 2017, Jennifer Fitzgerald was hired as our new Assistant ADRC Director. This position was changed to directly report to the ADRC Director. The Assistant ADRC Director position still oversees the day-to-day operations of our nutrition, transportation, caregiving and health promotion programs for the ADRC of Door County. In preparation for our move into a building almost four times that of our previous building, the County Board of Supervisors approved the additional funding to move our Activities and Volunteer Coordinator position from a part-time to a full-time position.

In January 2018 we moved into our beautiful new building. We could not be happier with the additional space. The move into the new building was the perfect platform to inform our community of our new identity as the ADRC of Door County. A week before the move we held a community open house event where we had more than 2,000 people attend in just a two hour period of time.

Our process in becoming an integrated Aging Unit and ADRC took a little bit of time but continues to have a number of great impacts on the way we provide services to our community. As an organization it has allowed us the ability to become more fluid and break down the old "silos" that once existed between our two aging units. Pulling all services and programs under one organizational roof has simplified the understanding our community holds in what the ADRC can provide.

Our integration efforts are never complete as we continue to work on streamlining our practices and improving the lines of communication between different areas within our organization. However, the decision to become an integrated Aging Unit was what allowed us the opportunity to start working on becoming a more effective organization overall.

3. Organization and Structure of the County Aging Unit 3-D Statutory Requirements for the Structure of the Aging Unit

Chapter 46.82 of the Wisconsin Statutes sets certain legal requirements for aging units.

For an aging unit that is described in (1) or (2) above, organized as a committee of the county board of supervisors/tribal council, composed of supervisors and, advised by an advisory committee, appointed by the county board/tribal council. Older individuals shall constitute at least 50% of the membership of the advisory committee and individuals who are elected to any office may not constitute 50% or more of the membership of the advisory committee.
2. For an aging unit that is described in (1) or (2) above, composed of individuals of recognized ability and demonstrated interest in services for older individuals. Older individuals shall constitute at least 50% of the membership of this commission and individuals who are elected to any office may not constitute 50% or more of the membership of this commission.	X
3. For an aging unit that is described in (3) above, the board of directors of the private, nonprofit corporation. Older individuals shall constitute at least 50% of the membership of this commission and individuals who are elected to any office may not constitute 50% or more of the membership of this commission.
Full-Time Aging Director: The law requires that the aging unit have a full-time director as described below. Does the county have a full-time aging director as required by law?	Yes

3. Organization and Structure of the Aging Unit 3-E Membership of the Policy-Making Body

The commission is the policy making entity for aging services and an aging advisory committee is not the commission. Chapter 46.82 of the Wisconsin Statutes sets certain legal requirements for aging units.

"Members of a county/tribal commission on aging shall serve for terms of 3 years, so arranged that, as nearly as practicable, the terms of one-third of the members shall expire each year, and no member may serve more than 2 consecutive 3-year terms." In the case of county board/tribal council members, the requirement is 3 consecutive 2-year terms.

Chapter 46.82 of the Wisconsin Statutes requires that the membership of the aging advisory committee (where applicable) must consist of at least 50% older people, and individuals who are elected to office may not constitute 50% or more of the membership.

4. Context

Who are the current and future older adults living in Door County?

Door County's widely held attractiveness has drawn a very diverse population reflecting the arts, community engagement and those who truly love being surrounded by beautiful landscape. There are many older adults who vacation here for years and decide upon retirement to make Door County a more permanent fixture in their lives. And others who have part time residences desiring a warmer setting from November to April.

However, those who have moved here independent of the rest of their family more often struggle to develop a strong network of natural support, generally because their familial support is long distance. And when experiencing a health crisis or some other difficulty in managing their affairs, they are challenged in maintaining their independence and quality of life.

Door County is also home to families and individuals who have lived here for generations. And although these group of older adults tend to have a more expansive network of friends and family. This group can experience a similar challenge because their family is not always readily available because many adult children are still working or raising a family.

Over the past five years Door County, similar to the rest of the State of Wisconsin, has entered the start of a pretty significant demographic shift. The next generation, more commonly known as "The Baby Boomers", has started to reach retirement age. The trend of those reaching retirement age and calling Door County their new home will most certainly continue in the future and will likely increase as the number of baby boomers enter retirement.

According to the Wisconsin Department of Health Services – Division of Long Term Care, 31 percent of Door County residents in 2010 were 60 years of age or older. This proportion of Door County's population is projected to reach 47 percent by the year 2030. This is a 16 percent increase with respect to those in the target group to be served. Door County ranks as one of the top five counties with respect to the proportion of the target population in the State of Wisconsin.

The reality of over one-third of Door County residents eligible for some level of service trending up to a proportion nearing one-half within one decade means this plan must begin to prepare for the future. The large number of "Baby Boomers" reaching retirement will present our community with a number of unique challenges we have never experienced before.

However, this next generation of older adults is not completely a negative one. This generational cohort entering retirement will provide a lot of benefits as well. A larger population of older adults can also mean countless hours of volunteer time and community engagement. There is a great potential to explore new and creative ways to utilize the time and talents of our "Baby Boomers" in a way that can help address the added needs and demand on services.

What needs have been identified?

To gain a greater understanding of the needs and services concerning older adults, we utilized a variety of methods to collect necessary input. The information collected included a blend of other organization's efforts to complement our own and was used as motivation in writing our 2019-2021 Aging Plan. Please see Section 5 - Public Involvement in the Development of the County Aging Plan for a more detailed description of those efforts and the results. The following list is a summary of those efforts:

- Throughout the summer of 2016, the Door County Community Foundation led a robust community engagement effort entitled, "Growing Older in Door County".
 Nearly 500 people attended more than 3 dozen neighborhood conversations about aging in Door County.
- In January of 2018, we moved into our brand new building. Understanding there was a lot of excitement and anticipation for the grand opening of our new building, we utilized that opportunity to distribute an "Activity Interest Survey". We wanted to know what our community was interested in with the additional space of our new building. We received 95 surveys. (Please see Attachment 1)
- Shortly after the distribution of our "Activity Interest Survey" we also created and distributed an ADRC Questionnaire. We distributed the questionnaire throughout the County and received a total of 184 responses. (Please see Attachment 2)
- Throughout April and May of this year, we held three community caregiver conversations. This was a collaborative effort through the Door County Caregiver Coalition. We held the conversations in Sturgeon Bay, Fish Creek and Brussels to provide an opportunity for those who lived in various parts of our County the opportunity to participate. Around 40 people attended between the three conversations. (Please see Attachment 3)
- Lastly, we asked our ADRC Advisory Committee members to help us in our attempt to gain a greater understanding of the needs in our community. So we asked each member to conduct 5 or 6 one-on-one interviews. These interviews were conducted all across the County.

The questionnaires, community conversations, surveys and interviews identified the following as primary needs in the county by older adults. These needs are in no particular order.

 Physical/Health Condition: Older adults want to remain independent and in their own homes as long as possible. The ability to do so often times depends on the physical health of the individual. We have received a lot of input that older adults living in Door County would like to see more opportunities to work on improving their overall physical health through exercise programs and health education classes or workshops. At the moment we have an ever-growing variety of health promotion classes and workshops currently being offered through the ADRC in partnership with other key community organizations such as the Door County Medical Center, YMCA of Door County, UW-Extension and Public Health. However, most of these opportunities are offered in Sturgeon Bay. Over the next three years, we hope to expand the number of health promotion classes and workshops we have to offer throughout the county.

- Isolation and Staying Connected: Due to physical, financial and geographical barriers, we have a growing population of older adults and adults living with a disability who feel disconnected from the rest of the community. Our community of older adults, adults living with disabilities, their families and caregivers would like to see more of a presence from the ADRC in other places throughout Door County outside of Sturgeon Bay. There is a fairly strong perception that the ADRC does a great job of meeting the needs in Sturgeon Bay but could improve their efforts in meeting the needs of those from the northern and southern portions of our county.
- Caregiver Support: This is an ever-growing concern and will most likely be the greatest need our community will have to face for the next fifteen to twenty years. The demand for in-home care is already at a point where it outweighs the supply of paid caregivers. Finding caregivers in Northern Door and on Washington Island can be even harder to come by. Our paid caregivers do not get paid enough and usually leave during the summer and fall months to wait tables or work somewhere within our tourism industry where they can earn a substantial amount more. We have also heard a lot of feedback from family caregivers themselves asking for more opportunities to receive more formal training on how to provide adequate and proper care for their loved ones.
- Intergenerational Opportunities: This need strongly emerged and was identified by older adults, as well as the community at-large, who participated in the "Growing Older in Door County" initiative. When asked what individuals wanted to see change throughout the community, there was a strong response in favor of a more integrated community. Individuals living in Door County would like more opportunities to interact with one another across the age spectrum. A lot of individuals expressed a lack of sense of community across generations throughout the entire peninsula and this feeling was not excusive to one aging cohort. There was also a strong response in favor of increasing the understanding of issues facing older adults by everyone in the community as well.
- Transportation: Access to transportation on a regular basis is a need that our Door County older adult population identify as a top concern. The lack of transportation in a rural county can contribute to the feeling of being isolated and not as connected to the rest of the community. Over the next three years, we intend to explore the transportation concern and make every effort to come up with some creative solutions. At the moment we are working alongside a public transportation consultant who is assisting our local Transportation Resource IP (TRIP) group in their exploration on how we can improve our public transportation here in Door County as a whole. Specifically, the ADRC we work towards improving the transportation offered to older adults on getting to and from our satellite meals sites. Those meal sites include: Washington Island, Liberty Grove, Baileys Harbor and the Brussels Community Center.

How is the aging network organized to support older persons in the county?

As mentioned in our organizational information above, we have benefited in a number of ways from the integration of our Aging Unit and ADRC. From an external perspective, it is so much easier now that we are one agency for the general public to understand what services and programs our aging network can provide. As opposed to before when we were trying to explain what the ADRC could provide separate from the Aging Unit. Since we have become an integrated aging unit, we have received a lot of positive feedback from consumers and community partners in favor of the integration.

Consistent with the staffing and organizational changes that were made, we also explored the make-up of our three advisory boards representing the aging population in our community. As a result, we combined our ADRC Advisory Committee with our Senior Services Advisory Committee leaving our Nutritional Advisory Council a stand-alone group. These organizational changes were all made to create a seamless system of service delivery for older adults, adults living with a disability, their families and caregivers in Door County.

The management and administration of the ADRC falls under the responsibility of the Department of Human Services. Falling under the guidance of our Department of Human Services allows the ADRC to maintain strong and healthy working relationships with the other divisions within the Department. These other divisions include: Adult Protective Services, Economic Support, Behavioral Health, Community Support Program, Children and Families Team which includes the CLTS program and our Coordinated Community Support Unit. These strong working relationships allow us to serve our community at a much higher level than we would be able to do independently. Once again it allows not only the ADRC but our entire Human Service Department the ability to break down those organizational "silos".

How are older adults supported by the Aging Unit and ADRC through programs and services?

The ADRC offers a single point of entry for anyone seeking information and assistance on issues affecting older adults, adults living with a disability, their caregivers and families. The information and assistance we provide is unbiased and free. Services are provided over the phone, in an office visit or in a visit to an individual's home. We also provide after hour or weekend appointments when requested.

Specifically, the ADRC in Door County supports older adults through a variety of programs and services. Our combined unit includes our information and assistance services, long term care options counseling, benefit specialist services, family caregiver support, hot and frozen home delivered meals, congregate meals at five different meal sites throughout the county, volunteer opportunities and health promotion programs.

When working with someone for the first time, either the older adult or a family member, we attempt to schedule an in-person meeting. The purpose of the initial in-person meeting is to gather more information on what is going on and to build a trusting relationship with the consumer or family member. During the initial meeting it is common that the individual or their family member will identify a number of concerns. When presented with a number of needs, we assist the consumer or their family in prioritizing those needs based on the consumer's wishes. After the initial meeting and throughout the working relationship we periodically follow up with our consumers or their family members. The follow-up piece is essential in determining where the individual is at and if they need further assistance.

The ADRC of Door County also supports older adults in gaining access to publicly funded long term care. And for the last three years Door County has been a Family Care county. During which we have continued to actively work on reducing our long term care waiting list and assisting those who qualify with their enrollment into Managed Care or IRIS. In August of 2018, we will have reached entitlement and have an ability to determine eligibility a little quicker ultimately connecting older adults and adults living with disabilities to needed long term care services.

Finally, moving into our new building has tremendously increased our ability to support older adults through the enhancement of programs and services. The ADRC of Door County is still a fairly new resource in the minds of those living in our community and the media attention we received during the move shed a brighter spotlight on what programs and services we can provide. But since the move, we have had people stop by every day who have never been to the ADRC before just to check out the building and ask about the programs and services we have to offer. In the first three months we had over 600 individuals new to our agency register to participate in a variety of programs. Our congregate meal site in Sturgeon Bay has increased by roughly 40%. Our fitness room participation has increased by almost 50% and the call volume at the front desk through our main telephone number has increased by almost 60%.

What are the challenges for the Aging Unit?

The ultimate goal for our ADRC, now and in the foreseeable future, is to maintain the quality of our services and support we currently provide older adults. And there are two big challenges that create a barrier in our ability to continue to achieve our ultimate goal. Those two barriers are the following:

- Door County's geographical layout
- The rapid growth of our aging population in Door County

Providing adequate services throughout the county is extremely difficult at times. Door County covers a vast range geographically. It is 90 miles from the southwest corner to the northeast tip. Washington Island accessible by ferry brings an additional, but valued, dimension to the County. The peninsula encompasses sparsely populated agricultural regions as well as a number of small towns and villages along its coastal landscape. Because of our geographical layout and the way our population is dispersed widely throughout the county, we have a growing trend of isolated and disconnected older adults.

Although we provide services such as frozen meals and meals on wheels outside of the Sturgeon Bay area, we continue to be limited in providing our full array of services in the outlying areas of the county. Over the next three years, we plan to focus a good amount of time and energy on expanding our programs and services to meet the needs of older adults, adults living with a disability, their families and caregivers throughout the county. For more detailed examples of programs and services we plan to expand, please see Section 6: Goals for the Plan Period.

What are the resources and partnerships?

Door County is a resource rich community with a high number of for profit and nonprofit organizations serving our target population. There is also positive and far reaching collaboration between those different groups. These groups have an intense concern over the growth of the target population and are more than happy to sit around a solution-focused table.

As an example of this kind of collaboration, our ADRC already partners with hospital staff in areas related to memory care, physical rehabilitation and nutrition programming. Hospital staff regularly give health-related presentations at our Sturgeon Bay meal site and regularly collaborate with our ADRC staff. The work with the hospital is indicative of the kind of collaboration that occurs. Door County has had a very strong support of our I-Team from various county government units as well as private entities. The ADRC continues to collaborate with church and civic group for provisions of our meals programs and in outlying areas of the county.

Another essential resource we must continue to utilize and involve in addressing the various concerns mentioned above, is the strong sense of community engagement around the county. We have a very active community of older adults happy to volunteer their time. Since the move to our new building, we have also seen a dramatic interest in the amount of older adults who want to get involved. This is not surprising as there are many older adults living in Door County who are volunteering their time for two or more different organizations. The increase in human capital is a great opportunity for our Door County community.

Since opening we have worked on expanding our bus trips to two trips per month and adding some larger trips during the year. Our live music has increased tremendously, having many of our regular performers ask to play 2x a month instead of once. We have also had more local musicians interested in playing here as well adding to our music selection. We have added 3 different computer classes each a different level of knowledge, our art class is growing and another craft class has been added. We have added more nutrition programs regarding cooking for 2, nutrition for the young at heart and healthy cents. We are currently working with a variety of community partners, such as public health, behavioral health services, Door County Medical Center and NWTC for an intergenerational program to name a few to collaborate to bring in more programs. We recently started a brain fitness class called Brain enrichment developed by a psychologist, the goal of this class is to maintain cognitive functioning (thinking and memory skills). Regarding volunteerism the volunteer coordinator has been and will continue to work with interested people who want to volunteer and to find jobs that match their interests and with also help us.

Date/s of Event or Effort: In our monthly newslette	r we inserted a survey that was intended to help us gain an understanding of what the needs are of t	he people in the community that we serve including Washington Island, Northern Door, South	ern Door and Sturgeon Bay.
Number of Participants or Respondents: 184 Resp	ondents throughout the county

Key Issues Discussed:

The survey asked several questions starting with what part of the county do you live in, gender and age, where you receive or look for news around the county, are you aware of the ADRC, what do you feel are the main challenges in your life, are you providing assistance or support for a family member or friend, Are you receiving assistance or support for a family member or friend, do you know someone who is loving with dementia or Alzheimer's, do you currently live alone and lastly what are some issue that you are aware of that aren't being met?

Key Takeaways/Findings:

The finding of this survey provided us the knowledge that 59% that completed the survey were from the Sturgeon Bay area, 25% from Northern door, 14% from Southern door and .54% from Washington Island. 72% of respondents were women, 36% of people that responded were between the ages of 70 – 79 years old and 33% were from 80-89 years old. The resources mainly used to find out about news around the county were the advocate newspaper at 70% and the Pulse newspaper at 67%. Followed by WDOR radio station at 47%. 97% of the respondents were aware of The Aging & Disabilities Resource Center. The main challenges in their life were physical fitness, health/prescription medication and financial. 77% of participants are not provided assistance or support to family or friend. Only 12% of respondents are receiving assistance of support for a family member or friend. 49% know someone with dementia or Alzheimer's, 50% did not know anyone with dementia or Alzheimer's and 50% of people are living alone within these 4 areas in the county.

Any Planned Response?

Knowing that a large percentage of people in the community know about the ADRC we want to continue to educate them on what services we provide and how we can help them. In order to continue to reach out to our consumers we are going to focus on providing our news/program updates to the newspapers and WDOR radio, we will still use facebook to reach the younger audience as well as distribute our newsletter throughout the community. Knowing that 50% of the population lives alone we need to start to prepare for what resources they will need in the future.

Our ADRC Advisory Board members uid a fantastic job and also mentioned that the process in conducting the 1-on-1 interviews was extremely eye opening. The effort went really well and there have been recent talks about doing something like this every year.

Key Takeaways/Findings: Everyone who was interviewed, regardless of location or age, felt that physical fitness and the ability for individual's to remain in their homes as long as possible was the number one concern. Most interviewees identified the overall importance of staying active to maintain their independence. There was a varied response regarding the availability and access to quality fitness classes and programs. For those interviewees that have been to the ADRC and utilized the fitness room, the feedback was all positive.

Isolation and staying connected to the rest of the community came up quite a bit throughout most of the interviews. Most who expressed this concern, shared that they feel Door County has a lot to offer in terms of resources but part of the issue is the general public's lack of knowledge.

Caregiving and the lack of respite opportunities or in-home care came up as a large concern for everyone who was interviewed. Interviewees felt that in-home caregivers were not paid enough and that the hourly rate they are paid is not a livable wage. The idea that both informal and paid caregivers need more opportunities for quality training was shared quite a bit as well.

Any Planned Response? We used a lot of the information and public feedback that was gathered through the 1-on-1 interviews to develop the goals in the three year aging plan. The big takeaway and message we have heard loud and clear, is that our community, including our older adult population, want to see more opportunities to stay connected to the entire community.

Although we'd rather not think about it, we're all aging. An if we're lucky enough to live a long life, most of us will need help. 90% of Americans want to age at home, but who will provide the care we'll need?

Care pulls back the curtain on the largely unseen world home elder care. With a verité eye, it follows the stories of care workers and their clients. We meet undocumented Vil who lovingly cares for 93 year-old Dee —long an independ businesswoman, who lives 3,000 miles away from her clos family. We go to work with Laurie, mother of 5, who tends wheelchair-bound Larry in a tiny rural town. We meet Ton whose husband, a CBS executive, suffers from severe Parkinson's disease and requires 24/7 help.

Care depicts the beauty and social importance of home based care. It also reveals the cracks in a system that leave: workers earning poverty wages and families struggling to p for the care they need. The film raises critical questions to invite dialogue and engagement before we hit a care crisis.

The CARE documentary illuminates the close relationshi between direct care workers and the older adults and fami whom they serve; the challenging working conditions faced direct care workers; and the barriers older adults and familicaregivers experience in accessing home-based direct care.
