

Door County Internet Providers and their Service Areas can be viewed from the Door County Web Map (<http://map.co.door.wi.us/map/>).

The “Identify” tool (a blue  symbol immediately above map) will provide a list of potential service providers for a selected map point. Potential service providers are then listed towards the bottom of the Information tab, so use scroll bar to view. This Information will also include the Providers Name (hyperlinked to vendor’s website in a new window) with Type of Service, and approximate Speed. This information can be selected and copied to other programs if desiring to include in a report or to print.

To view Broadband service areas in Door County, additional layer(s) will need to be checked on to display. From the Layers tab, open the “Telecommunications” folder and a layer for each provider appears under the sub-folders “Wired Broadband” and “Wireless Broadband”. Layers can then be checked on (or off again) for display on the map. To turn all Broadband Layers off and remove the white County mask, select the “All Broadband Layers OFF” radio button.

Vendor information is updated June 30th and December 31st of each year, and then an additional 4 to 5 months before it is received from the State and available for publishing. Current data based from June 30, 2013.

The Door County Economic Development Corporation is spearheading an effort to provide broadband vendor information for Door County and has a website: <http://www.doorcountybusiness.com/why-door-county/community-profile/telecommunications/> of general Information. Broadband data is affiliated with Nation Broadband Map (<http://www.broadbandmap.gov/>) and Link Wisconsin (<http://wi.linkamericadata.org/>).

Disclaimer Notice: The telecommunications service area information on the Door County Web Map is based on data provided to the Wisconsin Public Service Commission by the providers. The map is intended for planning and general use only. Please contact the service provider for site specific service availability.
